

WELCOME, KNIGHTS TEMPLAR

Hundreds of Knights and Ladies Coming for Big State Conclave

Templars From All Parts of the State Begin Arrival Tuesday Afternoon—Special Trains, Chartered Boats and Automobiles Bring the Throngs

FIRST RECEPTION AT BEECHWOOD

PARK TUESDAY NIGHT FROM 9 UNTIL 1

Dozens of Knights Templar and their ladies from all sections of the state of Kentucky began arriving in Maysville Tuesday for the Seventy-fifth annual Conclave of the Grand Commandery Knights Templar of the Grand Commandery.

This is the fifth time since its establishment that the city of Maysville has entertained the Grand Commandery Conclave. The last meeting here was in 1906 when Eminent Sir Thomas A. Keith was the Grand Commander and presided over the body.

Maysville will be crowded with visitors for the next three days. The visitors will represent the most influential and intelligent citizenship of the Commonwealth of Kentucky. They will come from every town of any size in the whole state. Thirty-seven commanderies will be represented and it is estimated that there will be fifteen hundred to two thousand Knights and ladies aside from their guests.

In addition to the Kentucky Knights there will be visitors from several states and the neighbor state of Ohio will be represented by about seventy-five Knights and ladies and will bring with them a brass band. The Portsmouth Knights will arrive here Wednesday morning on a special train over the C. & O.

Maysville Commandery, No. 10, known throughout the state for its hospitality, one of the most famous commanderies in the state, has done its best to prepare for a great conclave this year. The various committees have been working for weeks to have everything in readiness and nothing has been overlooked.

Sir Knight George P. Lambert, the chairman of the Decoration Committee, with the assistance of expert decorators, has in the city in gala attire. Sir Knight C. P. Rasp, chairman of the Housing Committee, has had a great job on his hands finding homes for all the visitors but the people of Maysville have kindly opened their homes to the visitors and everyone will be properly housed either in a hotel or boarding house or in a private family. Sir Knight Edward M. Smith, who is Eminent Commander of Maysville Commandery, and the Finance Committee has arranged to finance the conclave in splendid shape.

Sir Knight Ernest Gardner, chairman of the Committee on Transportation, has arranged for the parking of special trains, the mooring of chartered steamboats and the caring for automobiles. He will also have the big task of getting all visitors' baggage to their headquarters from the trains. Other committees have looked after Shackleford, Richmond.

THE HOME OF QUALITY CLOTHES

Welcome, Knights Templar

We extend to you hearty greetings and hope you will enjoy your stay in our City. We are very happy indeed to have you with us. Shall be pleased to have you call.

We invite everyone who comes to Maysville during this gala week to make our store their headquarters.

D. Hechinger & Co.
(Incorporated)

THE GRAND COMMANDER

Right Eminent Grand Commander Samuel Pearce Browning of the Grand Commandery of Kentucky Knights Templar.

Eminent Grand Standard Bearer—J. T. Graves, Versailles.
Eminent Grand Sword Bearer—J. P. Gregory, Louisville.
Eminent Grand Warden—W. W. Rubel, Lebanon.
Eminent Grand Captain of the Guard—S. S. Plinney, Mt. Sterling.

TOBACCO TALK

Farmer Brown had a worried appearance as he went about his work for, though corn planting was finished and tobacco plants "doing" as well as one had a right to expect, his supply of ready money was about exhausted and there were necessities he and his family must have. He had never established a real banking connection and naturally hesitated to ask for a loan.

Quite a contrast to his mood was that of his neighbor Smith who, gaily whistling, rode up on his sorrel mare. "Heard the news, Brown?" he shouted, and without waiting for a reply went on, "The association is making another payment on our tobacco next Saturday and there is going to be a big celebration in town. We'll get as much as we did on the first payment." "Hoorsay," shouted Brown, "That's great. It sure will come in handy for me and the Missus, for we havn't been going without things we needed for some time."

"No reason for that," replied Smith. "Why didn't you go to the State National Bank? Those fellows are always ready and willing to help us over the hard places."

"I don't know much about banks but I've been thinking I would start an account with the next money I get," said Brown.

"A good idea" was his progressive neighbor's response. "Now is the time and the State National the place because Ligo made possible this very distribution when he recommended that big purchase of pooled tobacco for his company. Get ready and go down with me Saturday and we'll both deposit our checks in the reliable old bank that never fails a loyal customer in a pinch."

THE STATE NATIONAL BANK, THE ONLY NATIONAL BANK IN THE COUNTY.

WEDNESDAY TO BE THE BIGGEST DAY OF BIG CONCLAVE

Great Parade of Knights Beginning at 11:30 Wednesday Will Be the Most Brilliant Display Seen in Maysville For Years.

Wednesday is the biggest day of the Knights Templar Conclave and for this one day there will be hundreds of visitors from all parts of the state who will leave for their homes immediately after the day's program.

The Grand Commandery proper does not open until Wednesday afternoon at the Masonic Temple and the great majority of the delegates will arrive in the city Wednesday morning, although many have been coming in all day Tuesday.

The public program of the conclave will be held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at the First Baptist church. This service will be in charge of Eminent Sir Daniel Bates Shackleford, Grand Prelate. The address of welcome will be made by Eminent Sir A. Cordon Sulser, of Maysville Commandery, and the response will be by Eminent Sir Henry S. McElroy, of Marion Commandery. The annual sermon will be preached by the Rev. Sir Robert Lee Telford, of Richmond Commandery. A beautiful musical program has been arranged by a choir under the direction of Eminent Sir Peter Gordon Snoot. This service will be one of the most beautiful and impressive religious services yet held in Maysville.

Immediately following the public worship, the grand street parade in charge of Right Eminent Sir Thomas A. Keith will be formed and will move through the principal down-town streets past the band stand in Market street where the Grand Officers will review the annual demonstration.

At 1 o'clock Maysville Commandery will serve a luncheon at the banquet hall of the Masonic Temple for the Grand Commandery members. From 2 to 3 o'clock the annual competitive drill will be held on Third street between Market and Sutton. Several well trained drill teams will compete for a beautiful trophy given by the local commandery.

Following the drill will be a series of receptions and dances by various commanderies. From 3 to 5 Montgomery Commandery gives a reception at Beechwood Park from 4 to 6 to Custer

DeMolay First to Arrive On Special Train for Conclave

DeMolay Commandery K. T. of Louisville Will Arrive with Large Crowd of Delegates.

The famous DeMolay Commandery of Louisville, will be the first Commandery to arrive for the big Knights Templar Conclave on its own special train. This special DeMolay train will arrive here over the L. & N. at about 5:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and will be met at the local station by an escort squad of Maysville Commandery led by the famous Kentucky Cardinals.

T. Jefferson and Fred W. Hardwick; Past Commanders Jno. Maass and wife, Thomas C. Wilkerson and wife, Harry Barker and wife, James P. Gregory, William Fromiller, Thos. O. Floyd, Wm. F. Chardine; Sir Knights Wade H. Daugherty, D. B. Perkins and lady, Jno. R. Reid and wife, Lee F. Hukill and wife, E. B. Ellingsworth and wife, Jas. D. Vaughn and wife, Jno. Pounds and daughter, Thos. E. Cibens and wife, Frank Dreyer and wife, Chase Schwab and wife, Clarence Miller and wife, Geo. C. Dusenberry

W. R. R. LaVelle, Eminent Commander.

Jno. F. Snarenberger, Generalissimo.

and wife, Jess K. Graves and wife, E. R. Turner wife and guest, Jacob Schreck, Geo. A. Beunett, Louis Max Brown, Phil S. Crutcher, Jr., E. A. Howoll, Geo. Duber, Geo. L. MacDon-

(Continued on Fourth Page)

band. Sir Knights Wade H. Daugherty and Clark Roberts, arrived here Monday afternoon by automobile to make all arrangements. Clark Robert, Captain General of their wives and daughters. The commandery will be established in headquarters at the Central Hotel.

Not only to DeMolay goes the honor of being the first to arrive in a body on a special train but this commandery will give the first reception of conclave week at Neptune Hall Tuesday evening.

They have employed the Bluegrass Band, of Maysville, to make music for them in Wednesday's parade and the famed drill team of this commandery, which has often won the trophy at conclaves, will participate in the competitive drill Wednesday afternoon.

The special train is in command of W. R. E. LaVelle, Eminent Commander; Jno. F. Snarenberger, Generalissimo; Clark Roberts, Captain General.

Those who will be on the train follow: A. J. Hartendtein, Senior Warden; Richard Priest Dietzman, Junior Warden; Henry Bass, Prelate, and wife; Thos. L. Jeerson, Treasurer, and captain of the drill team; Edw. McElroy, Recorder, and sister; Dennis Lindsay, Standard Bearer; Chester Solomon, Sword Bearer; Ray Atkins, Warden, and wife; Jno. Diebel, Sentinel; Past Grand Commanders Henry

CLARK ROBERTS, Captain General.

Herewith is reproduced the most famous Knights Templar badge in Kentucky, one that is known the whole nation over. It is the official badge of Maysville Commandery No. 10, more popularly known as the "5-15-22" Commandery.

This badge was originated at the Tri-Annual Conclave of the United States held in the city of Cleveland, Ohio, in 1877, when five valiant and magnanimous Knights represented the local commandery with the famous old Maysville hand of 15 pieces and plenty of refreshments.

The late Eminent Sir E. A. Robinson was the last of the five Knights.

NOTICE FRIENDS OF AMERICAN LEGION.

A number of the friends of the American Legion boys having expressed a desire to contribute articles not received during the shower Friday afternoon, the Civic Committee takes this method of informing them that they can obtain a list of the aforesaid articles by phoning Mrs. Carolyn Russell at 697.

POLICE WARNING.

Householders are warned to keep doors and windows locked and be careful in crowds. Large gatherings as the conclave always invite pickpockets, perch climbers and sneak thieves. JAMES MACKEY, Chief of Police.

Good Morning, Sir Knights! A Hearty Welcome to Our City

Come in and make yourselves at home, and see MAYSVILLE'S BIG STORE where Mr. Sir Knight and Mrs. Sir Knight do most of their shopping.

If there is anything you have forgotten to bring along you can replace it here for less money.

This is the store that has furnished so many of the pretty dresses that you will see this week. This is the store that operates the "Millard" Dress Shops of Philadelphia, Baltimore, Wilmington and Atlantic City. We have stores in New York and have just opened the beautiful "Jenny" Dress Shop of Cincinnati.

This is an unusual store for the size town of Maysville.

THE E. R. BROS.

THE DAILY PUBLIC LEDGER

Published Every Afternoon Except Sunday By
THE LEDGER PUBLISHING COMPANY
At the Public Ledger Building, East Third Street.
CLARENCE MATHEWS Editor and Manager
Entered at the Postoffice, Maysville, Ky., as Second Class Mail Matter
RATES IN ADVANCE: By Carrier or Mail, $3 per year; $1.75, Six Months; 40 Cents per Month.

OUR POLICY:

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of Mason County as an entire community, rather than such propositions as are in favor of the individual interest, or of one section as against another. And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the county as a whole.

COLLEGES AND RELIGION

In a recent issue of Harper's Magazine, Mr. E. S. Martin declares that the American college needs what the whole world needs most—religion. "If the colleges are to retain their importance they must be able to impart," he says, "spiritual guidance," and if they fail here they will lose their leadership.

These schools, for the most part, were originally founded for the purpose of giving educational advantages to young men and women in a distinctively religious atmosphere, and one prime qualification in an instructor was a Christian character, definite and vigorous. The atmosphere of these institutions in other days was permeated by religious sentiment and motive, and the students, coming from Christian homes, returned with their grip on the Christian doctrines and principles strengthened, to become leaders in the church life of the community, or to go into the ministry or the field of missionary effort.

As a college instructor writes in an article just published in Scribner's Magazine:

"In these latter days, somehow, that emphasis had dropped out. And not only is there a manifest lack of interest in the subject of religion on the part of the individual members of the faculty, but in some of our colleges a single course even, in the history or literature or philosophy of the Bible, in recent years, has been omitted.

"It is true that such courses are fertile fields of controversy: that many colleges have become involved in acrimonious disputes over the teachings of some of their professors of Bible. So some authorities have taken the attitude that it is far better to allow this field to lie fallow. Fallow fields, however, usually grow weeds. And, although weeds are excellent fertilizer when plowed under on the farm, the yare not great thought-producers in the realm of the mind. In religious matters, as in every other field of human endeavor, a neutral or negative position can be assumed only with extreme peril. So it would seem that to offer no instruction in religious subjects, especially in the Christian philosophy and ethic, simply because it may lead to controversy, is to premise a logic which, carried to its conclusion, would afford sufficient reason for omitting instruction in every other field.

It is not so much a question, however, of instituting special courses of study in religion but rather of introducing into the life of the institutions of higher learning influences and ideals through the medium of the teachers and the regular class room instruction. Faculties will have to be inspired by Christian conception, men who guide the youth of America must be found who believe that the religious motive is the great dynamic, that character without reverence for spiritual realities and faith in God is incomplete, and that personal example is more than half of teaching.

As Mr. Martin says: "It is not the exclusive province of religious teachers to teach religion. It is the province of all teachers, and a teacher who cannot do it is by so much less qualified for his job."

SOB-STUFF

Attorney General Daugherty is not so easily stampeded as some men who have occupied his important position. Recently a group of women organized a parade of children to petition the President to grant a "general amnesty" to all so-called "political prisoners"—men who had been convicted of impeding the prosecution of the war. One of the children carried a banner which had been prepared for her bearing the legend "My daddy never saw me." All this was intended to win sympathy and distract attention from the plain fact that the prisoners have been found guilty, by the unanimous verdict of juries, of violating the law.

President Harding very properly referred the petitioners to the Department of Justice, where they were told that each application for a pardon will be acted upon separately and on its own merits solely, and that there will be no general pardon granted. That is good sound sense. Whatever may be the merits of one case, it should have no effect, favorable or unfavorable, upon another case. Whether a daddy has ever seen his daughter has nothing whatever to do with this matter. If he has not seen his daughter through fault of his, that is not a reason for granting him clemency. If the United States had not gone into the war, and having gone in, had not helped win the war, an invading army of Huns might have made this man sorry he had a daughter at all. The time for a man to think about his children is when he contemplates the commission of a crime, and the thought should act as a deterrent. If he will not think of them then, he ought not take refuge behind them when he is called to account for his defiance of the government, which affords protection not only for him but for his family and friends.

President Harding and Attorney General Daugherty merit the highest praise for refusing to be misled into wholesale clemency for one of the most dangerous classes of criminals. Quite likely there are instances where a commutation of sentence might be proper, but the facts of the individual case and not maudlin sentiment should determine the action to be taken.

BY ITS FRUITS

The country is much less interested in the pronouncements of the Civil Service Reform League than it is in the manner in which the public business is conducted. If the Harding administration continues to cut expenses and reduce government payrolls, the taxpayers will merely laugh at the fulminations of protestants who never successfully conducted a business of their own but pose as authorities on how a large government establishment should be conducted. By its fruits the Harding administration will be judged. It is our guess that it won't be repudiated by a 7,000,000 plurality.

In one last desperate effort to drag the United States into European entanglements, the internationalists have at last begun to quote the former crown prince of Germany. The Lords and Ladies of the British Empire join with the Hun and the Bolshevik in the plea to the United States to come and bear their burdens, pay their debts, turn their griststones, fight their battles, settle their quarrels, and become the world's great goat. It would be funny if there could be anything humorous in a spectacle so utterly ridiculous.

Asweeping verdict for QUALITY

UNCLE TED'S BED-TIME STORIES.

"It is the difference between the fellow who talks all the time about what he has accomplished and the fellow who plugs along and lets the things he really does talk for him," said Uncle Ted, in answer to Jack's questioning about the report of savings in money made by President Harding to Congress.

"I have heard a lot of people talking about the men who run our government at Washington," said Jack. "Some of them haven't said very nice things either. I had a scrap with Fred, die yesterday because he said President Harding hadn't done anything to help hard times and that things were just as bad as they were and worse." "Jack, I'm sorry," said Uncle Ted. "That you and Freddie should quarrel. You boys should learn to control your temper better than that. Of course, to a certain degree, I don't blame you for becoming indignant over these things. People who talk that way are not acquainted with the facts. President Harding and his advisors have really accomplished wonders in the way the condition in which they found the affairs of government when they took over the reins. Let me give you an example. If John Jones has a big store and he runs it for eight years spending and wasting money right and left; if he buys more goods than he needs and then lets it rot; if he runs the whole store as if he had all the money in the world with no thought of tomorrow, what condition do you think it would be in? Then suppose another fellow comes along and takes over the store because it is the wish of his friends in the community. Do you think on year he could have that store back to normal after all the waste an extravagance used in running it for eight years?"

"I should say not!" answered Jack.

"Well, Jack, that's the exact situation today with regard to our government. President Harding has worked earnestly and well. He has brought back the respect of other nations. He has considered our home problems long and intelligently. He has by firm resolution saved the country $1,600,000,000 in one year and caused $907,500,000 to be cut from the government expenses. This wonderful showing came about through the establishment of the budget system under the able direction of General Dawes. The budget is a business system and it has proved a great success. This system, first of all, is the reason for the great success in cutting down our expenses, together with President Harding's hammering away to bring about real results and the expert judgment and skill of Gen. Dawes as director of the actual work.

"Now there are a lot of people who don't seem to know, from President Harding's report which he sent to Representative Martin B. Madden, chairman of the House committee on Appropriations, whether the administration has saved $1,600,000,000 or $900,000,000 or what. It is very simple and clear if we study the following part of the President's letter. I am going to read it to you, listen:

"It will be noted that in the expenditures of the government for the current fiscal year, ending June 30, 1922, (and that kiddies, is the first year of the Harding administration) after eliminating the estimates for estimates for the public debt, operations in capital funds and similar accounts, all of which tend to confuse our understanding of the actual cost of the routine business of government, THERE HAS BEEN A REDUCTION IN THE EXPENDITURES OF ADMINISTRATION OVER THE OUTLAY FOR 1921 OF $907,500,000. These highly gratifying figures relate to reduced expenditures which come under the influence of executive pressure, and do not include $700,000,000 of other reductions which are not related to the routine business of government. Compared with this reduction of $907,500,000 the director of the budget details $250,134,835.03 as the sum representing the savings and economies which may be fairly accredited to the new system of administration and the widespread commitment throughout the various departments to effect a more efficient and economic administration of the government's business. Of this sum about $12,000,000 represents postponed construction and maintenance which will PROBABLY BE UNNECESSARY UNDER THE REDUCED PROGRAM OF NSXT YEAR."

"In other words, kiddies," continued Uncle Ted, "A real effort to save has been made and proved successful as against reports during recent years of more money spent than we had. This is only the beginning of President Harding's plan to save money in the operation of the government. Plans are under way to bring some departments together and to wipe out some bureaus which are no longer needed. There is a plan, which may work out, to bring the War and Navy departments together under one head. This, of course, will take time but it all shows that the one big thought in Washington today is to SAVE. Taxes cannot be expected to come down at once with the great debts which must be met. But in time, this great effort to save will tell, not only on the amount appropriated each year by Congress to run the government but on our taxes. For this reason we must back up our government in this splendid work. Boost and knock and we shall see what real results will come from a government run on a businesslike basis."

GETS 60 DAYS, $300 FINE FOR DEATH OF CHILD.

Louisville. — Found guilty of making slanderous utterances against Mrs. Orlean Aesbach, a neighbor, Mrs. Salie Bottorff was fined $5 and costs and a fine of $300. Popham killed 5-year-old Theresa Elizabeth Broderick Noble Collins, who charged she had with his automobile January 15, as she was returning to her home with her father, Eugene Broderick.

SLANDER OF ANOTHER COSTS WOMAN FIFTY.

Louisville. — Herbert Popham was found guilty of involuntary manslaughter and his punishment was fixed at sixty days in the county jail in Jeffersonville. There also was filed against Miss Bottorff a suit for $1,000 damages for malicious prosecution by him arrested as insane.

YOUNG MOTHER NOW STRONG

Her Mother's Faith in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Led Her to Try It

Kenosha, Wisconsin. — "I cannot say enough in praise of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My mother had great faith in it as she had taken so much of it and when I had trouble after my baby was born she gave it to me. It helped me so much more than anything else has done that I advise all women with female trouble to give it a fair trial and I am sure they will feel as I do about it. — Mrs. FRED. P. HANSEN, 602 Symonds St., Kenosha, Wisconsin.

A medicine that has been in use nearly fifty years and that receives the praise and commendation of mothers and grandmothers is worth your consideration.

If you are suffering from troubles that sometimes follow child-birth bear in mind that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a woman's medicine. It is especially adapted to correct such troubles.

The letters we publish ought to convince you; ask some of your women friends or neighbors — they know its worth. You will, too, if you give it a fair trial.

Charles V. Vickrey
General Secretary of the Relief Organization

died during a brief period last spring when the interior station in the Caucasus were cut off from American food. On the other hand, a continuation of the full relief program can not help but mean a better, more peaceful region in the future.

Approximately ninety thousand children in Anatolia, Armenia, and Syria, besides the 35,000 in Transcaucasia, are receiving American training at present, according to Mr. Vickrey. Several hundred of them get a business system and it has proved a great success. This system, first of all, is the reason for the great success in cutting down our expenses, together with President Harding's hammering away to bring about real results and the expert judgment and skill of Gen. Dawes as director of the actual work.

"Now there are a lot of people who don't seem to know, from President Harding's report which he sent to Representative Martin B. Madden, chairman of the House committee on Appropriations, whether the administration has saved $1,600,000,000 or $900,000,000 or what. It is very simple and clear if we study the following part of the President's letter. I am going to read it to you, listen:

"It will be noted that in the expenditures of the government for the current fiscal year, ending June 30, 1922, (and that kiddies, is the first year of the Harding administration) after eliminating the estimates for estimates for the public debt, operations in capital funds and similar accounts, all of which tend to confuse our understanding of the actual cost of the routine business of government, THERE HAS BEEN A REDUCTION IN THE EXPENDITURES OF ADMINISTRATION OVER THE OUTLAY FOR 1921 OF $907,500,000. These highly gratifying figures relate to reduced expenditures which come under the influence of executive pressure, and do not include $700,000,000 of other reductions which are not related to the routine business of government. Compared with this reduction of $907,500,000 the director of the budget details $250,134,835.03 as the sum representing the savings and economies which may be fairly accredited to the new system of administration and the widespread commitment throughout the various departments to effect a more efficient and economic administration of the government's business. Of this sum about $12,000,000 represents postponed construction and maintenance which will PROBABLY BE UNNECESSARY UNDER THE REDUCED PROGRAM OF NSXT YEAR."

"In other words, kiddies," continued Uncle Ted, "A real effort to save has been made and proved successful as against reports during recent years of more money spent than we had. This is only the beginning of President Harding's plan to save money in the operation of the government. Plans are under way to bring some departments together and to wipe out some bureaus which are no longer needed. There is a plan, which may work out, to bring the War and Navy departments together under one head. This, of course, will take time but it all shows that the one big thought in Washington today is to SAVE. Taxes cannot be expected to come down at once with the great debts which must be met. But in time, this great effort to save will tell, not only on the amount appropriated each year by Congress to run the government but on our taxes. For this reason we must back up our government in this splendid work. Boost and knock and we shall see what real results will come from a government run on a businesslike basis."

"In other words, kiddies," continued Uncle Ted, "A real effort to save has been made and proved successful as against reports during recent years of more money spent than we had. This is only the beginning of President Harding's plan to save money in the operation of the government. Plans are under way to bring some departments together and to wipe out some bureaus which are no longer needed. There is a plan, which may work out, to bring the War and Navy departments together under one head. This, of course, will take time but it all shows that the one big thought in Washington today is to SAVE. Taxes cannot be expected to come down at once with the great debts which must be met. But in time, this great effort to save will tell, not only on the amount appropriated each year by Congress to run the government but on our taxes. For this reason we must back up our government in this splendid work. Boost and knock and we shall see what real results will come from a government run on a businesslike basis."

"In other words, kiddies," continued Uncle Ted, "A real effort to save has been made and proved successful as against reports during recent years of more money spent than we had. This is only the beginning of President Harding's plan to save money in the operation of the government. Plans are under way to bring some departments together and to wipe out some bureaus which are no longer needed. There is a plan, which may work out, to bring the War and Navy departments together under one head. This, of course, will take time but it all shows that the one big thought in Washington today is to SAVE. Taxes cannot be expected to come down at once with the great debts which must be met. But in time, this great effort to save will tell, not only on the amount appropriated each year by Congress to run the government but on our taxes. For this reason we must back up our government in this splendid work. Boost and knock and we shall see what real results will come from a government run on a businesslike basis."

"In other words, kiddies," continued Uncle Ted, "A real effort to save has been made and proved successful as against reports during recent years of more money spent than we had. This is only the beginning of President Harding's plan to save money in the operation of the government. Plans are under way to bring some departments together and to wipe out some bureaus which are no longer needed. There is a plan, which may work out, to bring the War and Navy departments together under one head. This, of course, will take time but it all shows that the one big thought in Washington today is to SAVE. Taxes cannot be expected to come down at once with the great debts which must be met. But in time, this great effort to save will tell, not only on the amount appropriated each year by Congress to run the government but on our taxes. For this reason we must back up our government in this splendid work. Boost and knock and we shall see what real results will come from a government run on a businesslike basis."

"In other words, kiddies," continued Uncle Ted, "A real effort to save has been made and proved successful as against reports during recent years of more money spent than we had. This is only the beginning of President Harding's plan to save money in the operation of the government. Plans are under way to bring some departments together and to wipe out some bureaus which are no longer needed. There is a plan, which may work out, to bring the War and Navy departments together under one head. This, of course, will take time but it all shows that the one big thought in Washington today is to SAVE. Taxes cannot be expected to come down at once with the great debts which must be met. But in time, this great effort to save will tell, not only on the amount appropriated each year by Congress to run the government but on our taxes. For this reason we must back up our government in this splendid work. Boost and knock and we shall see what real results will come from a government run on a businesslike basis."

"In other words, kiddies," continued Uncle Ted, "A real effort to save has been made and proved successful as against reports during recent years of more money spent than we had. This is only the beginning of President Harding's plan to save money in the operation of the government. Plans are under way to bring some departments together and to wipe out some bureaus which are no longer needed. There is a plan, which may work out, to bring the War and Navy departments together under one head. This, of course, will take time but it all shows that the one big thought in Washington today is to SAVE. Taxes cannot be expected to come down at once with the great debts which must be met. But in time, this great effort to save will tell, not only on the amount appropriated each year by Congress to run the government but on our taxes. For this reason we must back up our government in this splendid work. Boost and knock and we shall see what real results will come from a government run on a businesslike basis."

"In other words, kiddies," continued Uncle Ted, "A real effort to save has been made and proved successful as against reports during recent years of more money spent than we had. This is only the beginning of President Harding's plan to save money in the operation of the government. Plans are under way to bring some departments together and to wipe out some bureaus which are no longer needed. There is a plan, which may work out, to bring the War and Navy departments together under one head. This, of course, will take time but it all shows that the one big thought in Washington today is to SAVE. Taxes cannot be expected to come down at once with the great debts which must be met. But in time, this great effort to save will tell, not only on the amount appropriated each year by Congress to run the government but on our taxes. For this reason we must back up our government in this splendid work. Boost and knock and we shall see what real results will come from a government run on a businesslike basis."

"In other words, kiddies," continued Uncle Ted, "A real effort to save has been made and proved successful as against reports during recent years of more money spent than we had. This is only the beginning of President Harding's plan to save money in the operation of the government. Plans are under way to bring some departments together and to wipe out some bureaus which are no longer needed. There is a plan, which may work out, to bring the War and Navy departments together under one head. This, of course, will take time but it all shows that the one big thought in Washington today is to SAVE. Taxes cannot be expected to come down at once with the great debts which must be met. But in time, this great effort to save will tell, not only on the amount appropriated each year by Congress to run the government but on our taxes. For this reason we must back up our government in this splendid work. Boost and knock and we shall see what real results will come from a government run on a businesslike basis."

"In other words, kiddies," continued Uncle Ted, "A real effort to save has been made and proved successful as against reports during recent years of more money spent than we had. This is only the beginning of President Harding's plan to save money in the operation of the government. Plans are under way to bring some departments together and to wipe out some bureaus which are no longer needed. There is a plan, which may work out, to bring the War and Navy departments together under one head. This, of course, will take time but it all shows that the one big thought in Washington today is to SAVE. Taxes cannot be expected to come down at once with the great debts which must be met. But in time, this great effort to save will tell, not only on the amount appropriated each year by Congress to run the government but on our taxes. For this reason we must back up our government in this splendid work. Boost and knock and we shall see what real results will come from a government run on a businesslike basis."

"In other words, kiddies," continued Uncle Ted, "A real effort to save has been made and proved successful as against reports during recent years of more money spent than we had. This is only the beginning of President Harding's plan to save money in the operation of the government. Plans are under way to bring some departments together and to wipe out some bureaus which are no longer needed. There is a plan, which may work out, to bring the War and Navy departments together under one head. This, of course, will take time but it all shows that the one big thought in Washington today is to SAVE. Taxes cannot be expected to come down at once with the great debts which must be met. But in time, this great effort to save will tell, not only on the amount appropriated each year by Congress to run the government but on our taxes. For this reason we must back up our government in this splendid work. Boost and knock and we shall see what real results will come from a government run on a businesslike basis."

"In other words, kiddies," continued Uncle Ted, "A real effort to save has been made and proved successful as against reports during recent years of more

VISITING SIR KNIGHTS, COME

The Privileges of EDGEFIELD CLUB, Bath, Golf Course and Club House, are extended to you while in our city.
BOARD OF GOVERNORS

J. BARBOUR RUSSELL, Pres.

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanne Price

New York. — Is it an indication that we are turning backward toward more romantic and less rushing days, that the annual cruise of the New York Yacht Club this year will follow, as its flagship, a sailing vessel instead of a stea myth? J. Pierpont Morgan's beautiful Corsair has for several years steamed through the waves in the proud position as leader for the cruise. This season, Harold Vanderbilt's Vagrant, a sailing vessel, will have that place. It seems rather nice.

—NY—

New York City is beginning to worry about next fall, which is an unusual thing for it over to do. But its situation begins to look pretty serious.

The city's business life and prosperity depend upon its receiving a steady supply of coal. And unlike some cities, it must have two kinds. Owing to smoke laws, anthracite or hard coal is the prime necessity here. Now that the coal strike has been on for six weeks, coal users are beginning to become anxious as probably for the first time are taking an active interest in the controversy. They are completely astonished to find that there are two separate and distinct strikes—one affecting the bituminous fields

—NY—

Mrs. Maria G. Palmer is treasurer of the Union Trust Company in New York. Doesn't that sound like a particularly masculine job, too?

—NY—

"The Port of Missing Girls" could very well be subtitle for Times Square. It is a strange thing of New York life that they almost always gravitate toward that vicinity, the very place where they are likely to be hit instead of missed. Detectives al-

WAYS TAKE THEIR STAND ON A TIMES SQUARE CORNER WHEN THEY ARE ON THE OUTLOOK FOR A MISSING GIRL, AND JUST WATCH THE FACES THAT GO BY. "IT'S HARD TO TELL THEM THROUGH THEIR MAKE-UP," ONE DETECTIVE WAS FRETTING THE OTHER DAY. "SOME OF THEM MIGHT AS WELL BE DRESSED UP AS LOW DOCKSTADER FOR ALL THE CLEW A DETECTIVE CAN GET BY LOOKING AT THEIR TIMES SQUARE FACES. BUT SOONER OR LATER IF YOU JUST STAND HERE AND WATCH, YOU'RE PRETTY APT TO FIND THE LOST ONES."

—NY—

One of the best plays of the past ten years is back on Broadway. It is "Hindle Wakes," no wretched "Fanny Hawthorne." At the time of the first production of this very modern drama, it caused considerable of a sensation for its "frankness" and for the unusual — or unusually honest — viewpoint of the girl who determines most of the action of the play. Today, it doesn't seem so startling. We have been educated up to realism and to honest points of view on the stage. Silken Luban is excellent in the role of Fanny Hawthorne, the girl in question, a sullen, handsome, honest, mill girl, who refused to be sentimental about herself; and Gordon Ash, as Alan Jeffcote does good work. Whitford Kano, whom we liked so tremendously in "The Pigeon," plays the part of Fanny's father — and we still like him as tremendously as ever.

—NY—

The following ad which appeared in The Times the other morning demonstrates that even in Manhattan, pets are placed aside from riches and autos: "Lost — Reward and no questions asked if my pet monkey which disappeared with my automobile is returned; description, small white face, ring tail. Eagstrom, 136 West 75th."

—NY—

Mrs. Maria G. Palmer is treasurer of the Union Trust Company in New York. Doesn't that sound like a particularly masculine job, too?

—NY—

"The Port of Missing Girls" could very well be subtitle for Times Square. It is a strange thing of New York life that they almost always gravitate toward that vicinity, the very place where they are likely to be hit instead of missed. Detectives al-

WAYS TAKE THEIR STAND ON A TIMES SQUARE CORNER WHEN THEY ARE ON THE OUTLOOK FOR A MISSING GIRL, AND JUST WATCH THE FACES THAT GO BY. "IT'S HARD TO TELL THEM THROUGH THEIR MAKE-UP," ONE DETECTIVE WAS FRETTING THE OTHER DAY. "SOME OF THEM MIGHT AS WELL BE DRESSED UP AS LOW DOCKSTADER FOR ALL THE CLEW A DETECTIVE CAN GET BY LOOKING AT THEIR TIMES SQUARE FACES. BUT SOONER OR LATER IF YOU JUST STAND HERE AND WATCH, YOU'RE PRETTY APT TO FIND THE LOST ONES."

—NY—

One of the best plays of the past ten years is back on Broadway. It is "Hindle Wakes," no wretched "Fanny Hawthorne." At the time of the first production of this very modern drama, it caused considerable of a sensation for its "frankness" and for the unusual — or unusually honest — viewpoint of the girl who determines most of the action of the play. Today, it doesn't seem so startling. We have been educated up to realism and to honest points of view on the stage. Silken Luban is excellent in the role of Fanny Hawthorne, the girl in question, a sullen, handsome, honest, mill girl, who refused to be sentimental about herself; and Gordon Ash, as Alan Jeffcote does good work. Whitford Kano, whom we liked so tremendously in "The Pigeon," plays the part of Fanny's father — and we still like him as tremendously as ever.

—NY—

The following ad which appeared in The Times the other morning demonstrates that even in Manhattan, pets are placed aside from riches and autos: "Lost — Reward and no questions asked if my pet monkey which disappeared with my automobile is returned; description, small white face, ring tail. Eagstrom, 136 West 75th."

—NY—

Mrs. Maria G. Palmer is treasurer of the Union Trust Company in New York. Doesn't that sound like a particularly masculine job, too?

—NY—

"The Port of Missing Girls" could very well be subtitle for Times Square. It is a strange thing of New York life that they almost always gravitate toward that vicinity, the very place where they are likely to be hit instead of missed. Detectives al-

WAYS TAKE THEIR STAND ON A TIMES SQUARE CORNER WHEN THEY ARE ON THE OUTLOOK FOR A MISSING GIRL, AND JUST WATCH THE FACES THAT GO BY. "IT'S HARD TO TELL THEM THROUGH THEIR MAKE-UP," ONE DETECTIVE WAS FRETTING THE OTHER DAY. "SOME OF THEM MIGHT AS WELL BE DRESSED UP AS LOW DOCKSTADER FOR ALL THE CLEW A DETECTIVE CAN GET BY LOOKING AT THEIR TIMES SQUARE FACES. BUT SOONER OR LATER IF YOU JUST STAND HERE AND WATCH, YOU'RE PRETTY APT TO FIND THE LOST ONES."

—NY—

One of the best plays of the past ten years is back on Broadway. It is "Hindle Wakes," no wretched "Fanny Hawthorne." At the time of the first production of this very modern drama, it caused considerable of a sensation for its "frankness" and for the unusual — or unusually honest — viewpoint of the girl who determines most of the action of the play. Today, it doesn't seem so startling. We have been educated up to realism and to honest points of view on the stage. Silken Luban is excellent in the role of Fanny Hawthorne, the girl in question, a sullen, handsome, honest, mill girl, who refused to be sentimental about herself; and Gordon Ash, as Alan Jeffcote does good work. Whitford Kano, whom we liked so tremendously in "The Pigeon," plays the part of Fanny's father — and we still like him as tremendously as ever.

—NY—

The following ad which appeared in The Times the other morning demonstrates that even in Manhattan, pets are placed aside from riches and autos: "Lost — Reward and no questions asked if my pet monkey which disappeared with my automobile is returned; description, small white face, ring tail. Eagstrom, 136 West 75th."

—NY—

Mrs. Maria G. Palmer is treasurer of the Union Trust Company in New York. Doesn't that sound like a particularly masculine job, too?

—NY—

"The Port of Missing Girls" could very well be subtitle for Times Square. It is a strange thing of New York life that they almost always gravitate toward that vicinity, the very place where they are likely to be hit instead of missed. Detectives al-

WAYS TAKE THEIR STAND ON A TIMES SQUARE CORNER WHEN THEY ARE ON THE OUTLOOK FOR A MISSING GIRL, AND JUST WATCH THE FACES THAT GO BY. "IT'S HARD TO TELL THEM THROUGH THEIR MAKE-UP," ONE DETECTIVE WAS FRETTING THE OTHER DAY. "SOME OF THEM MIGHT AS WELL BE DRESSED UP AS LOW DOCKSTADER FOR ALL THE CLEW A DETECTIVE CAN GET BY LOOKING AT THEIR TIMES SQUARE FACES. BUT SOONER OR LATER IF YOU JUST STAND HERE AND WATCH, YOU'RE PRETTY APT TO FIND THE LOST ONES."

—NY—

One of the best plays of the past ten years is back on Broadway. It is "Hindle Wakes," no wretched "Fanny Hawthorne." At the time of the first production of this very modern drama, it caused considerable of a sensation for its "frankness" and for the unusual — or unusually honest — viewpoint of the girl who determines most of the action of the play. Today, it doesn't seem so startling. We have been educated up to realism and to honest points of view on the stage. Silken Luban is excellent in the role of Fanny Hawthorne, the girl in question, a sullen, handsome, honest, mill girl, who refused to be sentimental about herself; and Gordon Ash, as Alan Jeffcote does good work. Whitford Kano, whom we liked so tremendously in "The Pigeon," plays the part of Fanny's father — and we still like him as tremendously as ever.

—NY—

The following ad which appeared in The Times the other morning demonstrates that even in Manhattan, pets are placed aside from riches and autos: "Lost — Reward and no questions asked if my pet monkey which disappeared with my automobile is returned; description, small white face, ring tail. Eagstrom, 136 West 75th."

—NY—

Mrs. Maria G. Palmer is treasurer of the Union Trust Company in New York. Doesn't that sound like a particularly masculine job, too?

—NY—

"The Port of Missing Girls" could very well be subtitle for Times Square. It is a strange thing of New York life that they almost always gravitate toward that vicinity, the very place where they are likely to be hit instead of missed. Detectives al-

WAYS TAKE THEIR STAND ON A TIMES SQUARE CORNER WHEN THEY ARE ON THE OUTLOOK FOR A MISSING GIRL, AND JUST WATCH THE FACES THAT GO BY. "IT'S HARD TO TELL THEM THROUGH THEIR MAKE-UP," ONE DETECTIVE WAS FRETTING THE OTHER DAY. "SOME OF THEM MIGHT AS WELL BE DRESSED UP AS LOW DOCKSTADER FOR ALL THE CLEW A DETECTIVE CAN GET BY LOOKING AT THEIR TIMES SQUARE FACES. BUT SOONER OR LATER IF YOU JUST STAND HERE AND WATCH, YOU'RE PRETTY APT TO FIND THE LOST ONES."

—NY—

One of the best plays of the past ten years is back on Broadway. It is "Hindle Wakes," no wretched "Fanny Hawthorne." At the time of the first production of this very modern drama, it caused considerable of a sensation for its "frankness" and for the unusual — or unusually honest — viewpoint of the girl who determines most of the action of the play. Today, it doesn't seem so startling. We have been educated up to realism and to honest points of view on the stage. Silken Luban is excellent in the role of Fanny Hawthorne, the girl in question, a sullen, handsome, honest, mill girl, who refused to be sentimental about herself; and Gordon Ash, as Alan Jeffcote does good work. Whitford Kano, whom we liked so tremendously in "The Pigeon," plays the part of Fanny's father — and we still like him as tremendously as ever.

—NY—

The following ad which appeared in The Times the other morning demonstrates that even in Manhattan, pets are placed aside from riches and autos: "Lost — Reward and no questions asked if my pet monkey which disappeared with my automobile is returned; description, small white face, ring tail. Eagstrom, 136 West 75th."

—NY—

Mrs. Maria G. Palmer is treasurer of the Union Trust Company in New York. Doesn't that sound like a particularly masculine job, too?

—NY—

"The Port of Missing Girls" could very well be subtitle for Times Square. It is a strange thing of New York life that they almost always gravitate toward that vicinity, the very place where they are likely to be hit instead of missed. Detectives al-

WAYS TAKE THEIR STAND ON A TIMES SQUARE CORNER WHEN THEY ARE ON THE OUTLOOK FOR A MISSING GIRL, AND JUST WATCH THE FACES THAT GO BY. "IT'S HARD TO TELL THEM THROUGH THEIR MAKE-UP," ONE DETECTIVE WAS FRETTING THE OTHER DAY. "SOME OF THEM MIGHT AS WELL BE DRESSED UP AS LOW DOCKSTADER FOR ALL THE CLEW A DETECTIVE CAN GET BY LOOKING AT THEIR TIMES SQUARE FACES. BUT SOONER OR LATER IF YOU JUST STAND HERE AND WATCH, YOU'RE PRETTY APT TO FIND THE LOST ONES."

—NY—

One of the best plays of the past ten years is back on Broadway. It is "Hindle Wakes," no wretched "Fanny Hawthorne." At the time of the first production of this very modern drama, it caused considerable of a sensation for its "frankness" and for the unusual — or unusually honest — viewpoint of the girl who determines most of the action of the play. Today, it doesn't seem so startling. We have been educated up to realism and to honest points of view on the stage. Silken Luban is excellent in the role of Fanny Hawthorne, the girl in question, a sullen, handsome, honest, mill girl, who refused to be sentimental about herself; and Gordon Ash, as Alan Jeffcote does good work. Whitford Kano, whom we liked so tremendously in "The Pigeon," plays the part of Fanny's father — and we still like him as tremendously as ever.

—NY—

The following ad which appeared in The Times the other morning demonstrates that even in Manhattan, pets are placed aside from riches and autos: "Lost — Reward and no questions asked if my pet monkey which disappeared with my automobile is returned; description, small white face, ring tail. Eagstrom, 136 West 75th."

—NY—

Mrs. Maria G. Palmer is treasurer of the Union Trust Company in New York. Doesn't that sound like a particularly masculine job, too?

—NY—

"The Port of Missing Girls" could very well be subtitle for Times Square. It is a strange thing of New York life that they almost always gravitate toward that vicinity, the very place where they are likely to be hit instead of missed. Detectives al-

WAYS TAKE THEIR STAND ON A TIMES SQUARE CORNER WHEN THEY ARE ON THE OUTLOOK FOR A MISSING GIRL, AND JUST WATCH THE FACES THAT GO BY. "IT'S HARD TO TELL THEM THROUGH THEIR MAKE-UP," ONE DETECTIVE WAS FRETTING THE OTHER DAY. "SOME OF THEM MIGHT AS WELL BE DRESSED UP AS LOW DOCKSTADER FOR ALL THE CLEW A DETECTIVE CAN GET BY LOOKING AT THEIR TIMES SQUARE FACES. BUT SOONER OR LATER IF YOU JUST STAND HERE AND WATCH, YOU'RE PRETTY APT TO FIND THE LOST ONES."

—NY—

One of the best plays of the past ten years is back on Broadway. It is "Hindle Wakes," no wretched "Fanny Hawthorne." At the time of the first production of this very modern drama, it caused considerable of a sensation for its "frankness" and for the unusual — or unusually honest — viewpoint of the girl who determines most of the action of the play. Today, it doesn't seem so startling. We have been educated up to realism and to honest points of view on the stage. Silken Luban is excellent in the role of Fanny Hawthorne, the girl in question, a sullen, handsome, honest, mill girl, who refused to be sentimental about herself; and Gordon Ash, as Alan Jeffcote does good work. Whitford Kano, whom we liked so tremendously in "The Pigeon," plays the part of Fanny's father — and we still like him as tremendously as ever.

—NY—

The following ad which appeared in The Times the other morning demonstrates that even in Manhattan, pets are placed aside from riches and autos: "Lost — Reward and no questions asked if my pet monkey which disappeared with my automobile is returned; description, small white face, ring tail. Eagstrom, 136 West 75th."

—NY—

Mrs. Maria G. Palmer is treasurer of the Union Trust Company in New York. Doesn't that sound like a particularly masculine job, too?

—NY—

"The Port of Missing Girls" could very well be subtitle for Times Square. It is a strange thing of New York life that they almost always gravitate toward that vicinity, the very place where they are likely to be hit instead of missed. Detectives al-

WAYS TAKE THEIR STAND ON A TIMES SQUARE CORNER WHEN THEY ARE ON THE OUTLOOK FOR A MISSING GIRL, AND JUST WATCH THE FACES THAT GO BY. "IT'S HARD TO TELL THEM THROUGH THEIR MAKE-UP," ONE DETECTIVE WAS FRETTING THE OTHER DAY. "SOME OF THEM MIGHT AS WELL BE DRESSED UP AS LOW DOCKSTADER FOR ALL THE CLEW A DETECTIVE CAN GET BY LOOKING AT THEIR TIMES SQUARE FACES. BUT SOONER OR LATER IF YOU JUST STAND HERE AND WATCH, YOU'RE PRETTY APT TO FIND THE LOST ONES."

—NY—

One of the best plays of the past ten years is back on Broadway. It is "Hindle Wakes," no wretched "Fanny Hawthorne." At the time of the first production of this very modern drama, it caused considerable of a sensation for its "frankness" and for the unusual — or unusually honest — viewpoint of the girl who determines most of the action of the play. Today, it doesn't seem so startling. We have been educated up to realism and to honest points of view on the stage. Silken Luban is excellent in the role of Fanny Hawthorne, the girl in question, a sullen, handsome, honest, mill girl, who refused to be sentimental about herself; and Gordon Ash, as Alan Jeffcote does good work. Whitford Kano, whom we liked so tremendously in "The Pigeon," plays the part of Fanny's father — and we still like him as tremendously as ever.

—NY—

The following ad which appeared in The Times the other morning demonstrates that even in Manhattan, pets are placed aside from riches and autos: "Lost — Reward and no questions asked if my pet monkey which disappeared with my automobile is returned; description, small white face, ring tail. Eagstrom, 136 West 75th."

—NY—

Mrs. Maria G. Palmer is treasurer of the Union Trust Company in New York. Doesn't that sound like a particularly masculine job, too?

—NY—

"The Port of Missing Girls" could very well be subtitle for Times Square. It is a strange thing of New York life that they almost always gravitate toward that vicinity, the very place where they are likely to be hit instead of missed. Detectives al-

WAYS TAKE THEIR STAND ON A TIMES SQUARE CORNER WHEN THEY ARE ON THE OUTLOOK FOR A MISSING GIRL, AND JUST WATCH THE FACES THAT GO BY. "IT'S HARD TO TELL THEM THROUGH THEIR MAKE-UP," ONE DETECTIVE WAS FRETTING THE OTHER DAY. "SOME OF THEM MIGHT AS WELL BE DRESSED UP AS LOW DOCKSTADER FOR ALL THE CLEW A DETECTIVE CAN GET BY LOOKING AT THEIR TIMES SQUARE FACES. BUT SOONER OR LATER IF YOU JUST STAND HERE AND WATCH, YOU'RE PRETTY APT TO FIND THE LOST ONES."

—NY—

One of the best plays of the past ten years is back on Broadway. It is "Hindle Wakes," no wretched "Fanny Hawthorne." At the time of the first production of this very modern drama, it caused considerable of a sensation for its "frankness" and for the unusual — or unusually honest — viewpoint of the girl who determines most of the action of the play. Today, it doesn't seem so startling. We have been educated up to realism and to honest points of view on the stage. Silken Luban is excellent in the role of Fanny Hawthorne, the girl in question, a sullen, handsome, honest, mill girl, who refused to be sentimental about herself; and Gordon Ash, as Alan Jeffcote does good work. Whitford Kano, whom we liked so tremendously in "The Pigeon," plays the part of Fanny's father — and we still like him as tremendously as ever.

—NY—

The following ad which appeared in The Times the other morning demonstrates that even in Manhattan, pets are placed aside from riches and autos: "Lost — Reward and no questions asked if my pet monkey which disappeared with my automobile is returned; description,

Lehigh Cement and Sand

We Deliver Anywhere R. M. HARRISON & SON

$2.00

Cincinnati and Return
NEXT SUNDAY
MAY 21st

FAST
SPECIAL TRAIN
VIA
C. & O.

Leave MAYSVILLE 8:30 A. M.
Leave CINCINNATI 7:00 P. M.
(Fourth Street Station).

REDS VS. GIANTS
AMPLE COACHES

DEMOLAY FIRST TO ARRIVE
(Continued from First Page)

and daughter, W. R. Pierson, Wm. Jackes, E. H. Zirckel, Clifford F. Richert, C. F. Burrell, A. W. Bond, Mrs. Wm. B. Trumbo, Jr., A. R. Baun and wife.

Demolay Commandery will have as their guests on this special train the following commanders: Hopkinsonville, Owensboro, Princeton, Central City, Madisonville, Shelbyville, Frankfort, LaGrange.

Truss Wearers

WE ARE MAKING A BEFORE THE WAR PRICE ON TRUSSES. THIS OFFER IS GOOD ONLY THE REST OF THIS WEEK.

M. F. Williams Drug Company
THIRD STREET DRUG STORE

Paint Your Floors
With Floorlac

The Ideal Varnish Stain
For Sale By

JOHN W. DAVIDSON & SONS

102 West Second Street

Phone 48

Pastime Today

BUCK JONES

IN

Riding With Death

A wild riding and hard fighting western play.
Supporting cast includes Betty Francisco, Jack Jack Mower and J. Farrell McDonald.

ADMISSION 10 AND 15 CENTS

TOMORROW AND THURSDAY — "THE OLD OAKEN BUCKET."

REMOVAL

We will be in our new location, Nelson Building, next to Traxel's
jewelry store, Saturday, May 13th. Call and see our new store.

Brady-Bouldin Co.

EDGEFIELD CLUB COMMITTEES NAMED BY PRES. RUSSELL

Members Who Will Handle Affairs of Country Club for the Year Named.

President J. Barbour Russell, of the Edgefield Country Club, announces his appointment of committees for this year as follows:

Executive Committee — J. Barbour
Russell, Jas. N. Kehoe, S. F. Reed,
W. B. Ball, Jr., S. P. Browning.

House Committee — N. S. Calhoun,
Samford Ralph, George Ballou.

Membership Committee — J. C. Rogers,
Elmer Downing, H. T. Davidson,

H. J. Cochran, A. G. Sulser.

Greens Committee — Maurie Kirk,
Arthur Davis, Ennas Myall.

Gold Committee — J. Rees Kirk,
LeWright Browning, Dr. P. G. Smoot,

Harry Miles, D. E. Fee.

Tennis Committee — Dr. Quigley,
D. Rogers, J. C. Everett, Jr.

Ladies Hostesses to the House Committee — June: Mrs. J. Barbour Russell, Mrs. S. P. Browning, Mrs. Maurie
Kirk, Mrs. S. F. Reed.

July — Mrs. H. T. Davidson, Mrs. D.
E. Fee, Mrs. Florence Rogers, Mrs. Alfred Peed.

August — Mrs. N. S. Calhoun, Mrs.
D. Shanahan, Mrs. Will Reese, Mrs.
Reese Kirk.

September — Mrs. P. G. Smoot, Mrs.
H. S. Howland, Mrs. W. H. Taulbee,
Mrs. Homer Ellis.

October — Mrs. M. H. French, Mrs.
W. B. Ball, Jr., Mrs. LeWright Browning,
Mrs. George Ballou.

November — Mrs. J. M. Hunt, Mrs.
J. N. Kehoe, Mrs. L. Malchy, Mrs.
Eugene Merz.

TOBACCO GROWERS DISTRIBUTION

On Saturday, May 20, 1922, checks for second payment on Mason county tobacco will be distributed at Maysville, Ky.

These checks will be delivered to the growers at the Dodson building, northeast corner of Second and Market street, lately vacated by the Brady-Bouldin Company. Distribution will begin at 9 a. m. and continue until 3 p. m.

Presentation of participation receipt is not necessary.

Checks covering assigned participation receipts will be made payable to the assignees. The grower should see the party to whom he transferred for information as to such checks.

Mason county growers who delivered tobacco to other counties will find their checks at Maysville.

A meeting of tobacco growers will be held at the Opera House, Maysville, at 1:30 p. m., Saturday, at which Mason County Director J. N. Kehoe, Esq., will address the growers on the work of the association. A full attendance is urged.

MASON COUNTY BOARD OF DELE-GATES.

MURRAY TOBACCO GROWERS AS-SOCIATION.

500 COMING ON

LEXINGTON SPECIAL.

The Lexington Herald Tuesday morning said:

More than 200 Knights Templar and their ladies from the local commandery are expected to go to Maysville to attend the Grand Conclave Wednesday making the trip on a special train leaving the Union station at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday morning. Richmond, Versailles, Winchester and Mt.
Sterling commanderies will use the Lexington special, either from Lexington or intermediate points. Courier de Lion Commandery No. 26, Paris, will attach two or three coaches on the train at Paris and it is expected that when the train arrives at Maysville that close to 500 Sir Knights and ladies will be aboard.

MISS ADA CALHOUN DIES.

Miss Ada Calhoun, daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. Alex Calhoun, of Cincinnati, formerly of Maysville, died at a Cincinnati hospital Monday morning. She is survived by her parents and one brother, Frank Calhoun. Burial will be made in the Maysville cemetery, the arrangements to be announced later.

TEACHERS' EXAMINATIONS.

County Superintendent of Schools
George H. Turnipseed, announces an examination for teachers at the office of the superintendent at the court house on Friday and Saturday of this week.

CITY HAS MOTOR CYCLE COPS.

For the first time in Maysville's history, the police department boasts of two motor cycle policemen this week during the conclave.

By the Sapphire Sea

Played by Paul Whiteman and His Orchestra. — On the reverse

BYGONES

Two beautiful orchestrations on one record for only

75 Cents

"By the Sapphire Sea" the rhythm is simple, direct and catches up, one after the other some beautiful smooth melodies for each instrument through the group of instruments. "Bygones" is something new with wonderful "coloratura" effects for the saxophone.

"I'VE GOT THE WONDER WHERE HE WENT BLUES"

"HE MAY BE YOUR MAN" (But he comes to see me sometimes.) Lucille Hegamin and Her Syncopators

"WARASH BLUES"

"DOO-DAH BLUES" Mamie Smith

LATEST MUSIC ROLLS

SHEET MUSIC

Murphy's Jewelry Store

15 WEST SECOND STREET.

Rev. Father P. M. Jones, pastor of St. Patrick's church has gone to Martinsville, Ind., for a two weeks stay representing the Cincinnati Regalia Company during the Conclave.

WASHINGTON, D. C.

and Return

$24.00

C. & O.

CHESAPEAKE & OHIO RY.

Tickets good on all trains going

MAY 20th, returning any date within final limit, May 26th.

W. W. WIKOFF, Agent.

H. & E. Domino Sugar

SPECIAL LOW PRICE BY THE HUNDRED.

ALSO IN TWO, FIVE TEN AND TWENTY-FIVE

POUND PACKAGES. WHEN YOU BUY H. & E.

BRAND YOU GET QUALITY.

PLenty of STRAWBERRIES.

DINGER BROS.

LEADING RETAILERS

Grape Fruit is Getting Higher

Our price on large 64 size this advertisement only 10 cents each.
Less than you can get them in box lots.

Strawberries Arriving DAILY

Price much cheaper. Buy them now.

EXTRA SPECIALS FOR THE CONSERVATIVE BUYER.

LIBBY'S RED SALMON, 25 cents, Special 20c

LIBBY PINK SALMON, Special 12c

BANNER SUGAR CORN, Special 10c

MONARCH B. BEANS, Special 10c

DUTCH CLEANSER, Special 10c

EYZON BAKING POWDER, 30 cent size 25c

EYZON BAKING POWDER, 60 cents size 45c

LARD, in pail No. 3 50c

LARD, in pail No. 5 75c

LARD, in pail No. 10 $1.50

Mr. G. SULSER, Master Commissioner.

Here is a QUALITY TRIO You Can't Beat

LEXINGTON CREAM FLOUR

A fine flour for every baking purpose.

OUR 35c — 3 Lbs for $1.00 — COFFEE

If you are particular about your coffee we would be pleased to have you try it.

OUR SLICED BREAKFAST BACON

It's so good you can't help but like it.

R. L. TURNER & SON 509-11 East
Second Street
Telephone 220.

"WE STAND BACK OF EVERYTHING WE SAY OR SELL!"

SATURDAY TO BE FARMERS' DAY HERE

Business Men Arrange For Celebration of Farmers' Day on Saturday
When Farmers are Distributed.

Mrs. James Mackey, wife of Chief of Police Mackey, was taken very critically ill Monday evening, but is reported some better today.

SEALED BIDS

The Maysville business men desiring to cooperate with the members of the Burley Tobacco Growers Association have made the following arrangements for Saturday, May 20, when the checks for the second payment will be distributed to the growers by the association.

Business houses are requested to decorate for the day. Appropriate cards testifying to their interest in the association have been prepared and may be secured from any member of the committee for window display.

Refreshments will be provided upon the streets for all members and their families throughout the day.

Band concert by the Horse-Shoe
Band at Opera House, 12:45 to 1:30
p. m.

Band concert, Cardinal Band, Market street esplanade, 3 to 4 p. m.

BUSINESS MENS COMMITTEE.
By N. S. CALHOUN, Chairman.

Call as if you are looking for Fire
Insurance. Call us if you are looking for any assistance in Real Estate. We both Buy and Sell. M. F. & D. R.
COUGHLIN, Phone No. 410, No. 209
Market Street.

The Building Committee of the First Christian Church are now ready to receive sealed bids for the construction of the Sunday School Building. Plans and specifications can be had by calling at the Ryder Paint Store. All bids must be in by 12 o'clock, noon,
Wednesday, May 17th.

GEO. H. SCOTT Chairman.
JOHN F. FANSLER, Secretary

Call as if you are looking for Fire
Insurance. Call us if you are looking for any assistance in Real Estate. We
both Buy and Sell. M. F. & D. R.
COUGHLIN, Phone No. 410, No. 209
Market Street.

The Home Folks PHONE 325

SPECIAL

ICE CREAMS AND ICES
FOR CONCLAVE WEEK

FRENCH RISQUE
PHILADELPHIA
VANILLA
CHOCOLATE
FRESH STRAWBERRY
PEACH
CHERRY<br